

Literature Now Available en Español!

As markets and territories expand with our distribution partners, the need for additional literature to reach out to Spanish speaking clients has increasingly become more important. At our distribution partners request, ZL Engineering Plastics is pleased to offer our recent product catalogue in Spanish! Now you have the necessary tools to reach your Spanish speaking customers to help further their knowledge of mechanical plastics readily available today. Hard copies and digital e-files are available at your request. Please contact your ZL representative for additional information.

Committed to Excellence

We are aware that when choosing partners in furthering your business, you have many choices. Your team at ZL is committed to provide industry leading service to you and your customers such as:

- Same day service on orders placed by 2:00pm CST.
- Low stress materials to assure you and your customers the highest quality material available in the market place today.
- Lead generation program to support you by qualifying leads in the markets and industries of your choice.
- Experienced team that is always available to assist you in any way.
- Acetal tubing STOCKED in both natural and black colors. Tubing provides fabricators a more economical alternative to solid rod by offering inherently lower stress, increased dimensional stability and less machining time.
- Acetal rod STOCKED from 1/4" up to 19 3/4" diameter.
- Acetal plate STOCKED from 1/4" up to 6" thick.
- No hidden charges for small orders, skid fees or direct ship orders.
- ISO 9001 Certified
